Chapter: Bridge of Light Creating a New Society

Excerpt from: Sunlight On Water: A Manual for Soul-Full Living
by Flo Magdalena of SoulSupportSystems.org

Creating a new society means because you are physical, anything you visualize becomes physical with you. That's the rule. Everything's created through the physical and metaphysical.

So understand that what you're doing in this new time is anchoring the connections of the new society into this society. So it's less important for you to change this society than it is for you to visualize the new society. Do you understand what we're saying? Take your energy and place it where you want it. Live your destiny and know that it's being given to your planet through your being and your essence, your body, your cells, your osmosis.

When you ground, put your feet flat on the floor, shoulder width apart, and anchor the light of the divinity of the etheric oneness of all time, which is where you are living your life, through your cells into the core of order in the Earth. You have roots coming out of the bottom of your feet.

Grounding is imperative. What's going to happen if you don't ground, is you'll become a bundle of nervous energy because you are running so much current. You can see, and you know it's alive, but if you don't ground it, your life won't change. Please understand that. You've got to trust your body with your spirit.

So everything that you're creating in your new society is cooperative in nature, because you're all pieces of the hologram. The health clinics you've been trying to get off the ground for years and years, all the things you've been trying to work through in terms of establishing new points of order on the planet, you establish in this new space of society. They make their way into this planetary configuration and are lived.

You have a focus that has no limitation to it. You're visualizing who you are and your destiny, and it falls into the planet and creates a bond. And every time you anchor your energy through the concentric circles, sending out your point of light to all points of light, you make a space on the Earth to house your vision. The Earth wants to house your visions, the Earth wants you. The Earth wants you to live the etheric potential, because it's like rooting in her corner, "Yes, Earth, we're with you. Yes, we know that you are perfect, you are Divine. That's our perspective, you are absolutely Divine."

So you don't look at her anymore as if she's in big trouble. PLEASE, LOOK AT HER IN HER DIVINITY. There is nothing wrong, there is nothing to fix. All that you are here to do is live your destiny, and by living your destiny, you change the world.

You are going to be zinging and feeling so alive that you're not sure what to do, which is beautiful. You're out hugging oak trees and picking up leaves and playing with dogs, and just living your life.

When you enter the dimensions of creation, you feel at peace, and you feel connected. What do you feel connected to? The plan, the design, to order, to balance, to the integrity that you carry inside of you forever. That will straighten out your check book. Are you getting the picture? It will straighten out everything in your life, so that it reflects that order, because you're connected. You're connected to everything that you are.

We recommend that you make sweatshirts with wonderful sayings, “I live the fairy tale,” and “The dream of we is in me.” The people will respond with the consciousness of the dolphin. They will listen to the words, they will imprint the experience and they will let it go. And like children they will be awake for the next moment, and they will incorporate that next moment, and nothing else matters, and then everything matters. And when everything matters and nothing matters, you’re connected.

We’ve also been talking about the Model of Cooperation, which is the basis for this new society, fundamentally in synchrony and in union with what we call the “Fiber of Being.” The Fiber of Being is the current, the thread that links everything into unity. When you look at the species of the Earth, when you look at all of the aspects of the Universe, they are in phenomenal order. You walk around and look at this and wonder who created this, because it’s really cool, it’s very good. Everything knows what to do, a duck is a duck you know, everything is in its place. Animals know what to do because they know their script, they know their essence.

So when you are in connection and living your essence, you function with this fundamental thread that creates the current of union between all things. So you’re taken care of because you belong to the family of life. And you begin to experience on very dynamic levels what that’s about. Your people call them miracles. Because you are held in the hand of the Universe, you are precious. You are the only one of your kind. And when all of you in your individuality and in your power unify, watch out!
